Plan, monitor and review integrated packages of interventions and support to address individuals' offending behaviour

Overview

This standard is about planning and coordinating a package of different interventions and methods of support to address individuals' offending behaviour. The package will be designed to meet the specific needs of the individual. Interventions can include formal programmes or more informal approaches. They may be provided by your organisation, by other organisations or by a combination of the two. The packages should be integrated in the sense that the different interventions and support come together in the best possible way to meet the needs of individuals, to manage the assessed level of risk of harm, and which are cost-effective.

This standard is designed to be relevant across a broad range of interventions, including those which enable individuals to address their behaviour, develop skills and knowledge, and integrate within the community. It involves providing advice, guidance and information to individuals to support them in addressing their difficulties, including protection from risk of harm, where appropriate.

In working with offenders you are expected to consistently display the skills of pro-social modelling, offender engagement and professional judgment to encourage offenders to desist from their offending behaviour and to reduce the risk of re-offending.

There are three elements

- 1 Establish the range of interventions and support needed for individuals
- 2 Plan integrated packages of interventions and support to meet individuals' needs
- 3 Monitor and review the effectiveness of integrated packages of interventions and support and management of risk of harm
