Overview

This unit is about developing your personal networks to support both your current and future work.

Your personal networks may include people in your own organisation, people you meet from other organisations and people you are in contact with over the phone or the Internet.

Developing personal networks is based on the principles of reciprocity (exchanging things with others for mutual benefit) and confidentiality. People only want to network if there are mutual benefits from exchanging information and other resources. There must also be clearly agreed boundaries of confidentiality – certain information and resources may not be exchanged because they are confidential.

The unit is recommended for middle managers and senior managers.

This unit is linked to units:

- A2 Manage your own resources and professional development
- D2 Develop productive working relationships with colleagues and stakeholders in the overall suite of National Occupational Standards for Management and Leadership.

If your organisation is a small firm, you should look at unit A3 Check your own skills, which has been developed by the Small Firms Enterprise and Development Initiative (SFEDI) specifically for small firms and which may be more suitable to your needs.

You can obtain information on the unit from SFEDI on tel. 0114 241 2155 or at the SFEDI website (www.sfedi.co.uk).
