

Resolve customer service problems

Overview

This standard is about the effective handling of customer service problems. Remember that customers include everyone you provide a service to. They may be external to your organisation or they may be internal customers.

It is sometimes difficult to meet customer expectations. Even if the service you give is excellent, some customers experience problems. Part of your job is to help to resolve those problems. There is likely to be a problem if customer expectations are not met. This may be because your customer's expectations involve more than you can offer or because your service procedures have not been followed. Some problems are reported by customers and sometimes you spot the problem first and resolve it before your customer has even noticed. As soon as you are aware of a problem, you need to consider the options and then choose a way to put it right. This standard is particularly important in customer service because many customers judge how good the customer service of your organisation is by the way problems are handled.

When you have completed this standard you will have demonstrated your understanding of and your ability to:
